

Dear Kindergarten Parents:

Below you will find a list of sight words we will be working on this year. Sight words are common words a reader should be able to recognize by sight. Most, but not all, sight words do not follow the “rules” and cannot be sounded out, therefore children must be able to recognize them by sight. The words are broken up into point clubs, the children will earn a prize for each point club they can successfully read. However, the children cannot move onto the next point club until they can successfully read all the words in the previous point club. The first 51 words are from our reading series and all children must be able to read them by the end of the school year.

The last 49 words are from the Dolch Sight Word list and the children are encouraged to learn as many as possible before first grade. Please practice the words listed below daily with your child, one set at a time, adding the next set as they master them. My goal is for all children to master all 100 words. I would recommend putting the words on notecards and flashing them to your child. When I test your child I will hold up the word and count to four in my head. They need to be able to read the word in those four seconds, with the goal of being able to recognize it “quick as a snap”. I would also recommend mixing up the order of the words to make sure they truly know the word.

Thank you for your help and please let me know if you have any questions.
